18 to 20 June 2025 – The Philippine Statistics Authority (PSA) – Cotabato Province successfully conducted its three-day 2025 Provincial Mid-Year Performance Review at Hridaya Resort, Brgy. Luvimin, Kidapawan City, Cotabato, with the theme “Building a Resilient, Agile, and Future-Fit PSA.” The activity served as a platform to assess accomplishments, reflect on challenges, and realign strategies for the remaining half of the year.

The event was officially opened with a warm Welcome Remarks from Supervising Statistical Specialist Nazar A. Mohammadsha, who emphasized the importance of unity, accountability, and continuous innovation in achieving the agency’s goals. His message set a positive tone and inspired the team to take ownership of their roles in delivering quality statistical services.

In behalf of Regional Director Atty. Maqtahar L. Manulon, CESO V, Senior Statistical Specialist Mr. Wilmer S. Bacera delivered an inspirational message via Zoom, highlighting the region's collective achievements and encouraging the PSA Cotabato team to maintain their excellence and resilience amidst evolving demands and challenges. His message underscored the significance of a future-fit PSA—agile, data-driven, and people-centered.

The activity was spearheaded by OIC-Chief Statistical Specialist Norhayyah A. Tula, in collaboration with the dedicated personnels of PSA Cotabato Province. Each staff member presented their individual First Semester 2025 Accomplishments through the PW Form 1, showcasing their contributions to their respective work units. Each unit—Statistical, Civil Registration, National ID (PhilSys), and Administrative—also shared their respective challenges, setbacks, issues, and concerns encountered in the first half of the year, followed by the presentation of their updated Second Semester 2025 Work Programs.

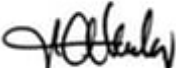

Crucial components of the review included the presentation of the revised consolidated 2025 Workload Analysis, the Risk Registry and Action Plan (RRAP), and the Opportunity Registry and Action Plan (ORAP)—all essential in strengthening PSA Cotabato's strategic planning and operational resilience.

Additionally, Ms. Matet H. Cuay, the Gender and Development (GAD) Focal Person, presented the First Semester 2025 GAD accomplishments, reporting on the target versus actual performance of the GAD Plan, reinforcing the agency's commitment to gender-responsive initiatives.

Before the formal closing of the event, OIC-CSS Norhayyah A. Tula gave her final instructions and words of gratitude, recognizing the outstanding collaboration, dedication, and hard work exhibited by the team during the first semester.

The activity was formally closed with a message of inspiration and encouragement from Senior Statistical Specialist Edna A. Alagano, who highlighted the importance of teamwork, accountability, and continued excellence in public service.
